CINEMA™

A NEW DIMENSION IN SECURITY

3D and movement built into Guardian™ substrate

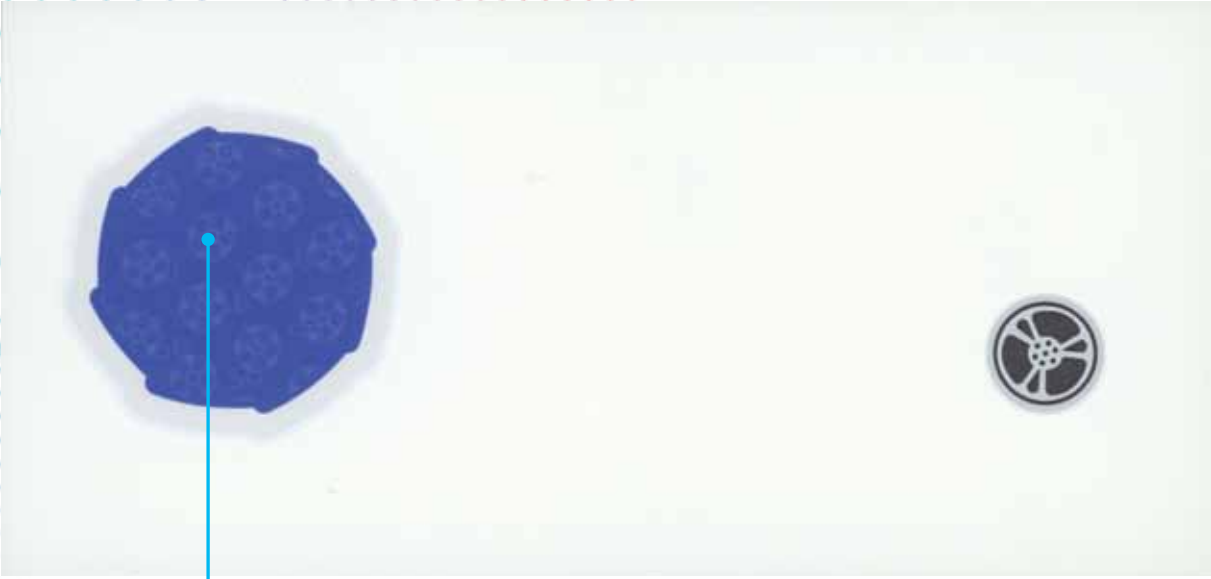
HOW CINEMA™ REVOLUTIONISES BANK NOTE SECURITY

CINEMA™ brings your banknote to life with striking 3D and movement effects unlike anything seen on banknote previously.

Our revolutionary new security feature CINEMA™, is impossible to achieve with any substrate except Guardian™.

This is because CINEMA™ is integrated directly with the substrate during the manufacturing process building on the unique properties of Clarity™ C film.

CINEMA™ makes possible a brand new dimension in security.



A film reel appearing to float above the surface and the denomination '50'.

The image and denomination move freely as the note is tilted.

HOW CINEMA™ INTEGRATES INTO THE BANKNOTE DESIGN

- The Charlie Chaplin banknote was designed by CCL Secure and originated and printed by PWPW. The banknote use the iconic image of Charlie Chaplin in combination with themes drawn from his films and the cinematic experience.
- The CINEMA™ feature half window and secondary window both represent film reels and this ties with the floating images in the CINEMA™ feature itself.
- The front of the note features a striking portrait of Charlie Chaplin in his iconic Tramp costume and the reverse shows an image of Chaplin's legs and cane, inspired by the film "Modern Times".

Intaglio printed portrait of Charlie Chaplin in his iconic Tramp costume.

The themes of film and cinema are captured through out the note and the CINEMA™ feature.
